

From: Tracey Marr
Sent: Wednesday, 8 February 2012 4:35 PM
To: CCAAC
Subject: Gift Cards

Dear CCAAC,

I read in Choice magazine about your review of gift cards with great interest. As a consumer I believe it quite unethical of traders to have any expiry date at all on gift cards when it means they keep your money and give you nothing for it.

My submission is simple, either there should be no expiry date or, after a certain period in which the card is not used, the money is returned to the purchaser.

Regards

Tracey Marr