Subject: Professor Ian Ramsay Review.

Dear Professor Ramsay,

You are aware of the revelations of [REDACTED] banking misdeeds during and after its acquisition of [REDACTED] in 2008. Along with many others I lost all of my personal and corporate assets when [REDACTED] refused to honour its 2008 contractual obligations in a real estate related loan to my company, Kelgon Development Corporation P/L. This breach of contract led to subsequent debt and destitution for myself and trauma for my family. I had submitted details of my loss to past Senate Investigations (see attached 5 pages) but to no avail thus far. As an obligation to the people who were hurt, I urge your support for a thorough investigation into the bank's activities over the last nine years with special emphasis on machinations attributable to [REDACTED] as well as former [REDACTED]. If wrongdoing is established, then timely commensurate compensation must be afforded to those who were, in most cases, cheated out of their savings and livelihood.

Yours sincerely,

George Kelepecz,
