

My number one concern as a financial planner and a mortgage broker is that the merged schemes will automatically side with the complainant and not investigate fully and mediate to obtain a result that is satisfactory to all parties. Because not all complainants are faultless.

Kind regards,

Alison Elliott

Finance Broker