

Post office banking

This is to let you know that Australia urgently needs a post office bank and I trust that you will see to it that this is done immediately as our current private banks have failed to give the people of Australia a fair and just banking service to which we all have a right. Peter