

Postal Bank

I support the development of a postal bank. The people need to have a bank that will operate for their needs. The closure of branches in metropolitan and regional areas has impacted greatly on people and the banks closing those branches don't care.

A postal bank will operate for the people and give them the type of banking that is required for everyday Australians. The control of the four major banks has had a detrimental effect on everyday Australians and an alternative bank like a postal bank should be encouraged. The four major banks are all about making huge profits for their shareholders and ignoring the requirements of their customers.

Gillian Deviine