Hello

I feel the biggest issue with electronic invoicing is the end user storage problem. It is all very well for invoices to be issued in various formats whether it be via sms or email but there is no clear cut process available for an effective storage and retrieval system given the variety of formats (some are like still .jpg) there is no process to be able to effectively send them to a cloud storage service.

Assistance in establishing a basic service (similarly to the way basic On touch payroll support services were quickly set up to provide and effective end to end solution) would be of major assistance to small businesses not willing to invest time. Energy and funding into expensive accounting package solutions.

Hope you can consider this matter.
